

PROMNITE®

prom royalty:
TRENDS, TRADITIONS, & MORE

Prom coronation is a timeless tradition, but how it is executed can vary widely among high schools. Check out some of these ideas to help you plan your Prom coronation.

Your Prom Royalty

Who Makes up Prom Royalty?

Traditionally, Prom royalty consists of a King, Queen, and Court. The court can be small or large, depending on the size of your school. Court members can all have titles of Prince or Princess, or you can include more students by adding more titles, like:

- ★ Duke and Duchess
- ★ Marquis and Marchioness
- ★ Count and Countess
- ★ Baron and Baroness
- ★ Lord and Lady

Choosing Your Prom Royalty

There are many possible ways to decide on your Prom royalty. Consider the size of your student body and the culture of your school when choosing the ideal way for your school.

- ★ Let the entire student body nominate Prom royalty candidates. Then narrow the nominations and have all the students vote.
- ★ Open nominations and voting only to the Junior and Senior classes.
- ★ Have the Prom Committee choose Prom royalty.
- ★ Have teachers and staff choose Prom King, Queen, and Court members.

Crowning Your Prom Royalty

As with choosing your Prom royalty, there are a variety of options when it comes to announcing the winners and holding Prom coronation.

★ At School

Keep the entire school involved by announcing winners and crowning royalty at a special school assembly.

★ At Grand March

Let parents in on the action by crowning your Prom royalty at the beginning or end of Grand March.

★ At Prom

For a more intimate coronation, hold the ceremony at Prom itself, so the Junior and Senior classes can make special memories only they will share.

Coronation Must-haves

Royalty Accessories

Deck your King, Queen, Princesses, Princes, and the entire court out in regal finery to help them feel like true royalty on Prom night. You'll need:

- ★ Tiaras for the Queen and her court
- ★ A crown for the King
- ★ Crowns or light-up fedoras for the King's court
- ★ Sashes for everyone

Coronation Decorations

Set the stage for coronation and add regal flair to your coronation space with dazzling decor fit for royalty.

- ★ Metallic curtains for the Court's grand entrance
- ★ A red carpet walkway
- ★ Chair covers and bows to transform chairs into royal thrones
- ★ A fabric backdrop or archway for photo ops
- ★ A spotlight to light up the stage
- ★ Balloons to fill empty spaces
- ★ Styro letters to spell out "PROM," "ROYALTY," or "CORONATION"

Make it More Inclusive

- ★ Instead of crowning a King and Queen, use more gender-neutral titles, like "Class Monarchs."
- ★ In addition to the Court, add casual titles (Best Dancer, Best Prom Hair, etc.) and announce results at coronation or during the dance.
- ★ Involve more students by having 1-2 student presenters crown each royalty title at coronation.
- ★ Have your Class Comedian(s) emcee your coronation.
- ★ Ask artistic students to create art pieces to display on the stage.
- ★ Arrange for freshman or sophomore singers to perform at coronation.
